THE REGULATION OF NEWSPAPERS, ETC. The ATTORNEY-GENERAL-I have now to move that the Council resume the consideration ing been adjourned, as I understand it, for the purpose of enabling me to inform the Council with reference to the state of the English law regulating matters of this kind, at the suggestion of my hon. friend (Hon. Jackson). I may state that the regulations the forms of registration connected there with are of a different character from those required in the the penalties are not so stringent as those into account the difference in the value of as regards newspapers. I have endeaveured to point out to the Council that if an omission were made from the Bill of this particular subsection we are now upon, a gap would be made in the provisions of the Ordinance, which would render the protection which the Ordinance is calculated to furnish to the public against newspapers incomplete and imperfect. If any hon, member has any provision to make by which that protection can be furnished in some other manner, am sure the suggestion would be most carefully considered, and it will be seen what can be done with it. But at present I do not think that any suggestion has been made by any hon. member of the Council as to how the law is to be carried out on the point in question consistently with the meaning of Subsection 3.

Patients, on country trips The attendance at Hainan, last year upwards of six thousand, has not yet reached us for 1885. We here find an increase in the attendance over the former year, and, as indicating the wide field of the respital's work, we may say that the patients treated during the year comprise some from 17 provinces and Manchuria and Mongolia. From Human they number hundreds, and from the most of the provinces we kave them as In-patients. That they will be found to be mainly soldiers is apparent. Regarding the charge for medicines, to out-patients instituted at the last annual meeting, without entering into the question in detail, we have to say that the income has been about three hundred dollars, and the somewhat diminished attendance can, we believe, be readily accounted for by other circumstances.

The publications of the various medical books and treatises already issued is an increasingly important feature of the Society's work. The revised Materia Medica is in the press; a large diagram of the internal ergans has been published during the year, and several publications are in progress. In the Appendix relating to the semi-Centennial Anniversary there will be found a resume on this and various subjects, including a calendar chimportant events in the fifty years of the Hospital and Society's existence. The Medical Class has been continued as usual, and contains a number of specially promising young men: two or three native doctors have inquired as to the teaching. We should welcome any inclination on the part of Chinese Doctors to take up with Western practice, and believe that at no very distant day, as in Japan, there will be a movement towards the adopVESSELS ADVERTISED AS LOADING.

POST-OFFICE NOTICES.

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen pecasionally) all that the addresses need do is to note on the cover. Sent to - or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it, without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster-General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs ; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the end.

LOCAL DELIVERY .- No delivery is attempted on board Ship, at the Peak, Kowloon, Aberdeen, transhipment, arriving one wook later than by &c., nor at any private house (even though named in the address) when there is a place of husiness nearer, at which delivery can be effected.
